Designed for you to be Creative.

Stan Editions was founded in 2021 by Stan Verstraete as a creative platform for art and design.

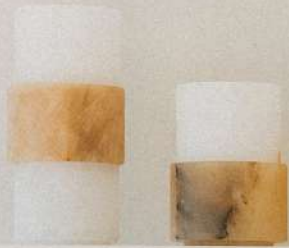

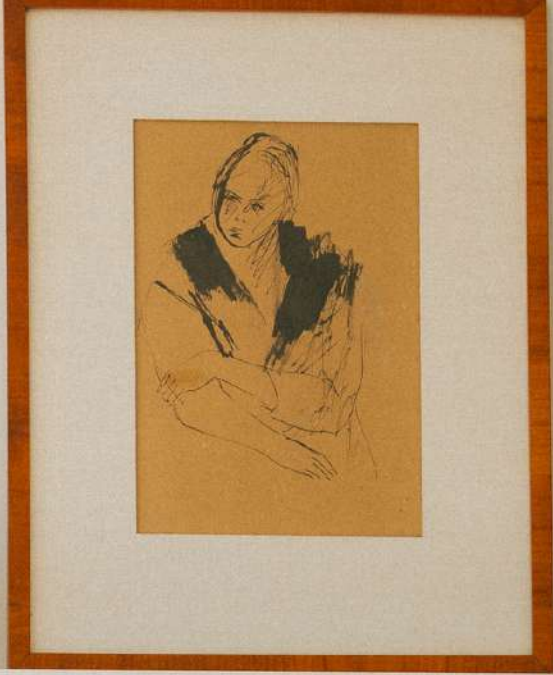

The first Candi Stack collection by Stan Editions emerged from a search for a new way to use candles. He found inspiration in the colors of Rothko, Mondrian, and Sottsass. The unique modular nature of the candles encourages creativity and allows anyone to build and rearrange the stacks as they wish, creating sculptures that perfectly reflect their mood, interior, and personal world.

Alongside this, the Module collection was born—a series of individually packaged candles in colorful boxes.

Now you can build your own "stack" from scratch, allowing even more creativity and the freedom to assemble a stack entirely to your liking.

To make your stack even more timeless and luxurious, you can add an alabaster module. Alabaster is a natural stone from Italy with a transparent character that allows candlelight to shine through.

Stan Editions is always looking for new editions to add to the collection. The Candles are just the beginning so stay tuned for more design objects to come.

The Module Collection consists of individual candles in various sizes, packaged in colorful boxes.

It allows customers to create their own personal Candi Stack using different modules — the ultimate freedom for creativity.

For easy in-store presentation, we offer a display that is not only practical but also attracts customers and explains the concept itself.

The display has 4 layers with 16 candles each and one layer with 12 candles, a total of 76 candles per display.
